TIMELY CORRESPONDENCE

DOYLESTOWN.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK—REPUBLICANS HAVE AN EXCELLENT TICKET—CIVIL COURT BUSINESS—BLOODED HORSE SOLD—VOLUNTEERS AT THE COUNTY MEET

The Republicans of Bucks county may congratulate themselves upon the fact that they have an excellent ticket judged from the Democratic point of view, which is certainly flattering. The Democrats regard the ticket as one hard to beat is shown in the fact that the Democratic leaders are ignoring their own nominees altogether in an effort to raise a row in the Republican camp. One hears very little about the Democratic candidates or the party platform, which was alleged to possess all the virtues when created. Instead of continuing to extol the merits of their ticket the Democrats are still harping upon the Republican County Convention, telling the people about the "related candidates," "treachery of the bosses" and other imaginary evils. In fact it seems to be the purpose of the Democratic leaders to win their fight if possible by insinuating that there is a lack of harmony in the Republican party. They would like to create sufficient dissension to enable one or two candidates to slip through, but the Republicans of the county are cognizant of the situation and are awaiting until election day to show their opponents how fruitless are their efforts in this direction. The nomination of Hon. Hampton W. Rice was a particularly bitter pill to the Democracy. They felt sure that party trouble would ensue with either Rice or Shoemaker on the ticket. Finding that their hopes failed to materialize they are now endeavoring to make capital out of the fact that the Prohibitionists have endorsed Mr. Rice. In the meantime there is danger that the very names of their own candidates will be forgotten before the election takes place.

The momentary interest excited in Twining's independent venture has died out, which indicates that Republicans generally are getting in line to vote a straight county ticket. Several things have occurred to arouse Republican indignation. One has been the effort of the Democrats to create discord, already referred to, and the other is the course pursued by the Doylestown Intelligencer, which seems to be aiding the Democrats by intimating that the ticket is not one worthy of support throughout. All these things will only have a tendency to make Republicans more alert and active in getting out a full vote.

October civil court convened on Monday with quite an array of cases on the list, but a great many of them will be continued or settled. A case in which the public was concerned was that of a number of taxpayers against ex-County Commissioners Vandegift, Wismer and Strohm. The taxpayers had appealed from the report of the County Auditors, taking exceptions to a bill for public printing and to money expended by the Commissioners and their clerk in pursuance of their official duties. The principal matter, however, was the printing of the election ballots for 1896. The case was settled without going to a jury, the Commissioners confessing judgment for $920 and costs. Their counsel stated that incurring this bill the Board had acted with entire honesty, believing that they were paying a fair price for the ballots. In regard to certain expenses incurred by the Commissioners the matter was not pressed. It has come to be recognized that in the past ten or fifteen years there has been a vast increase in the work devolving upon these county officials. For this reason money is spent which might not be permissible under a strict interpretation of the law. It is honestly spent, however, for it would be a physical impossibility for one clerk to transact all the business of the Board. There will be no harsh criticism of the Commissioners involved in the lawsuit over these matters, as their integrity is unimpeachable.

Doylestown was a point of interest to a great many horsemen on Monday, when a sale of blooded stock took place at Robert Steel's fine stock farm west of town, a portion of which was the old fair grounds years ago. Mr. Steel is a breeder of trotting stock, and has been very successful in the business. About 24 head were sold on Monday. The great strides that breeders have made in producing fine stock at low figures was shown by the fact that a mare, "Fluvarina," 7 years old, with a record of 2:27 1/2, sold for $885. A number of likely colts sold for less than $100.

Doylestown has ample military protection just now, as all the members of Company G are here awaiting the arrival of the officers who will muster them out. It is said the men will be paid off and discharged some time this week.

PENN'S MANOR.

Rev. Mr. Pittenger delivered a very good sermon in our chapel on Sunday evening last to a large and attentive audience.

Mrs. Emmet and Mrs. Jane and Miss Gertrude Woolsey were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sterling for a few days last week.

Miss Jane W. Seidensticker, who is the employee of Mrs. Senator William R. Skirm, of Trenton, is paying a week's visit to her parents here. They had been spending their usual four months at Ocean Grove.

The Penn's Manor W. C. T. U. pleased a large company of guests at the home of its president, Mrs. Mary S. Beck, on Thursday evening, October 6. An oyster supper had been announced, and the dining room and porch at the Beck home were crowded with the 120 people who partook of the palatable feast. After the supper a number of plays from Tullytown sang and an orchestra played some selections. Miss Sue B. Beane, of Fallington, recited "Jack, the Fisherman," and Mr. and Mrs. Witmer, of the same place, rendered an appropriate song. With the proceeds the Union will soon treat the public to a good lecture.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is a remarkable medicine. A dry, tickling, hacking cough, the warning that consumption lurks near, needs no other doctor but Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It positively cures throat and lung trouble.

TULLYTOWN.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS AND DISCUSSES THE ADVISABILITY OF STOPPING BASE BALL—LACK OF INTEREST IN POLITICS—SEAF AT CAPTAIN EDWARDS—GANG OF THIEVES IN TOWN.

The regular meeting of the school board was held on last Monday evening at the school house. New spelling books were ordered for the lower grades, and this will undoubtedly please the little people, who have had nothing but their readers to serve in this capacity.

There was some discussion as to the advisability of prohibiting the playing of base ball on the school commons. Although there was no formal complaint made to the board, the principal, Mr. Barron, stated that a complaint had been made to him because of a palling having been broken from the fence across the street. While the board took no action in the matter, Mr. Barron stated that Mr. Braumen had given his permission to play ball on his meadow adjoining the school commons, and that they would play there instead of in the school yard, unless the board especially sanctioned playing in the latter place. The directors being unwilling to take any action in the matter, the boys will probably confine their ball playing to Mr. Braumen's meadow for the balance of the season.

Whether the board should sanction the ball games on the commons remains to be seen; but the popular opinion is that prohibition is unreasonable. An old resident of the borough stated Monday that ball playing had been permitted there from the days he attended the school, and he saw no reason why a change should be made now. It is certain that the property in the vicinity of the school house has remained practically in its present condition for the past five years, and no serious damage has been done by the ball games or any other sports. Would it not be better for the directors to pay for an occasional broken fence paling, rather than to thus curtail the children's privileges?

Residents of the borough in the vicinity of the school need to exercise some forbearance, and not to forget the days when they, too, were children. They should also understand that the borough owns the streets, that individual ownership and control stops at the street line, and that the school children, so long as they are orderly, have the same rights on the sidewalks in front of residences, that the residents themselves enjoy.

There is a notable absence of interest in political affairs considering the nearness of election day; at least local political talk is heard on the streets and in the stores. The Quay arrest has had the effect of stirring up some Republicans, but not exactly in the manner intended by those who did the trick.

Instead of alienating voters from the State and Legislative tickets, both Quay and Anti-Quay adherents realize that W. A. Stone and not M. S. Quay is the party's gubernatorial candidate, and that he is his own master and has a political record above reproach.

In their desperation for campaign capital some Democrats here have started the report that Captain Edwards is opposed to trolley roads, some even going so far as to say that he is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. It can be stated here on the best authority that he was never in the employ of the P. R. R., and his record in trolley matters is too well known to require any explanation. He procured permission of the owners of real estate adjoining the turnpike between Bristol and Tullytown for the Philadelphia and Trenton Road and labored indefatigably to push the road through this borough. That the personal relations between him and Mr. Gaw, who is alleged to have blocked the road near Croydon, were seriously strained, can be attested by one of Tullytown's citizens who witnessed a heated discussion between these two gentlemen, which was a direct result of the efforts of Captain Edwards in behalf of the trolley road. No man on the ticket is more deserving of the support and suffrage of all citizens of the county than Frank G. Edwards, and it is believed that his friends and neighbors here will give him a large vote in appreciation of his sterling integrity and honesty of purpose.

From several robberies having been committed lately it looks as though a gang of thieves was in or about this borough. The latest depredation occurred last week. A case of shoes consigned to Mr. E. E. Johnson was left at the wharf in the evening by the steamer Twilight. As Mr. Johnson was not expecting the goods until the next day the case remained on the wharf over night, and thieves abstracted seven pairs of shoes and two pairs of overcoats. The thieves have not yet been apprehended.

An autumn service will be held at the M. E. Church next Sunday evening, at which appropriate exercises will be given by the young people. The church will be seasonably decorated with fruits and flowers, the products of local farmers.

Rev. William J. Wright, pastor of the Christian Church, will preach next Sunday morning upon "Luck and Labor, or the Key to Heaven," and in the evening on "The Impregnable Rock of Holy Scripture."

Mr. Alexander Parr has been home for a few days this week recovering from a slight accident on the railroad. He has again resumed his duties as brakeman.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parr have returned from a long vacation at Niagara Falls and other parts of Western New York.

Mr. Charles Ashton, Jr., is at home on a visit after having been absent from town through the summer.

Mrs. Streeter and Miss Carrie Woodlades, of this place, visited friends in Philadelphia last week.

Mr. Horace Burton, of this place, visited friends in Bridgeton, N. J., last week.

MORRISVILLE.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION—MORRISVILLE SCHOOL REPORT—RAYMOND LODGE MEETS WITH AN ACCIDENT—NEEDS TRAMMY HELD UP.

At a special meeting of the Library Association on Monday evening last it was decided to hold a musical and literary entertainment the last Friday of this month. A prominent speaker will also be present to address the meeting. The committee who have the matter in charge are indefatigable in their efforts to make the entertainment as interesting as possible. The programme will be composed of good talent and selections for the occasion. The charge for admittance will be so nominal that every one who is interested in the good cause, or wishes to see it succeed, will be able to purchase a ticket. The ladies of the association who will have charge of the decorations of the hall are actively at work to make it as pretty and attractive as can be made by the display of plants, bunting, the national colors, etc. Many instances could be cited where a village library has been made a success by the holding of entertainments, socials, garden fetes and book receptions. The more enthusiasm and spirit shown in a respective community the higher were the proceeds, and, of course, the more interesting and valuable a library could be made. In some communities the proceeds from a single entertainment netted a few hundred dollars. The broad-minded and progressive citizens of the place see no reason why such a valuable institution as a free reading room and library cannot be established and maintained by the patriotism of the people. The fact is indisputable that it will be an invaluable aid to the public school of the district, and also commensurate with its prosperity to the community at large. We are living in an age that is thirsting for knowledge, and in the words of Webster, He who does not add to the toll of his ancestors cannot be counted among the benefactors of posterity.

The Morrisville schools are reported as being in fine condition and the attendance is good. In the first primary the number of pupils enrolled is 28 males and 39 females; average attendance, 22 males, and 30 females. Second primary, enrolled, 21 males and 30 females; average attendance, 16 males and 24 females; average attendance, 12 males and 18 females. Intermediate, enrolled, 17 males and 11 females; average attendance, 12 males and 11 females. Grammar, enrolled, 20 males and 11 females; average attendance, 18 males and 11 females. High school, enrolled, 12 males and 15 females; average attendance, 11 males and 13 females.

Raymond Lodge, while playing in a field that was being rolled, accidentally got his arm caught by the roller, which resulted in tearing off all the flesh from the forearm. In the absence of his father, Mr. Millville, a neighbor, brought the boy down to Dr. Woodman, who put him under ether while cleansing and dressing the wound, which is a very serious one and may make amputation necessary.

Mrs. Julia Brown last July took a child to board belonging to her cousin. During the summer the child was very sick, and in caring for it Mrs. Brown had to give up her work, and the mother not being able to care for the baby it will be placed in a home.

A negro tramp was held up on the cut-off railroad near Morrisville and shot and taken to Dr. Kussman's, where a 36 calibre ball was extracted from his leg. His name is not known.

Mr. William Woodman, postmaster at Buckmanville, and wife visited Mr. Henry Woodman this week. Miss Mary Woodman, sister of Mr. H. Woodman, is also spending some time at the same place.

Mrs. Charles Humphries is just recovering from a severe illness. Her sister, Miss Hartage, attended her, and was missed from her accustomed place at the railroad station.

Miss Grace V. Bonner will give an entertainment in the M. E. Church lecture room on Thursday evening, October 13th. She is an eloquent and rare ability.

Mr. Aaron has purchased the Grove house and is tearing it down. He has had the roof removed and is hauling the material to his home on Vansant avenue.

The M. E. Church pulpit will be filled last Sunday in the morning by J. A. Randall, of Yardley, and in the evening by a "local" from Trenton.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. have two candidates to ride the goat at their next meeting. Come out, brothers, and give the animal courage.

The largest baby on record in this vicinity is Lyman Phelps, who though only six months old, weighs thirty-five pounds.

The last mark of the old picnic grounds, formerly called the Morrisville Grove, is now being leveled to the ground.

The Lessey Syndicate Company of Tourists passed through town on last Friday on their way around the world.

Rev. Mr. Hopper, formerly of Princeton University, occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday.

Pay your school tax before Saturday, 15th inst., and get the abatement of 4 per cent. It is your last chance.

Mr. Fred Howell is now getting in trim for a five-mile bicycle race which will take place in a week or so.

The Epworth League held a business meeting on Monday evening in the lecture room of the M. E. Church.

The new Morrisville Band can be heard every Wednesday evening at Mechanic Hall, where they practice.

Between this place and Penn's Manor two fields of cabbage have been completely eaten up by worms.

The Ladies' Aid is about to give an entertainment for the benefit of the city hospital.

Mr. Phil Case is getting his house brightened up with a fresh coat of paint.

PENN VALLEY.

As Miss Mattie Glover and her cousin were on their way to Penn Valley station on Monday to meet Miss Glover's father, Rev. Charles P. Glover, the horse they were driving became suddenly ill, and falling in the road broke off the shafts of the carriage.

The new owner of the stock farm expects soon to have it restocked with the horses he has lately purchased. Mr. John Panocon, the superintendent of the farm under Mr. Hunry, has been retained by Mr. Winters.

The Penn Valley station was brightened up with a coat of paint, and all the surroundings fixed up, in preparation for the annual inspection of the railroad by the R. R. officials on Tuesday.

Mrs. Charles Hughes, Miss Meda Hughes and Master Roy Hughes, visited Mrs. Hughes' son, Carl, at the Williamson School, Delaware Co., Pa., on Saturday.

John R. Breese had the misfortune to nearly cut one of his fingers off with a cleaver while cutting meat one day recently.

John T. Lewis had a large copper kettle and a number of baskets stolen from his tomato field one night last week.

Mrs. Amanda Moss, of Philadelphia, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. John W. White.

Miss Minnie B. White has been on a visit to relatives and friends in Philadelphia.

EDGELY.

Mrs. Susan Snookhouse returned on Saturday from a week's visit among friends in Philadelphia.

William Carter is occupying his new house, which presents a very fine appearance.

Mr. Henry Lovett, of Philadelphia, was a visitor at William Leigh's on Sunday.

Harry Williams is attending the Spring Garden Institute as a pupil in the electrical department.

Edgely station is reequipped in a new coat of paint.

A Common Experience.

Scene I—Mr. Johnson is obliged to give up work, remain in the house and take care of himself on account of a dreadful scrofula sore on one of his limbs.

Scene II—Mr. Johnson reads a testimonial which tells of scrofula troubles cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. He resolves to try it, sends for a bottle and begins taking it.

Scene III—Mr. Johnson has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla. His scrofula sore is cured. He is feeling strong, has a good appetite and is able to attend to his work. He writes a testimonial telling of his experience with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and recommends it to others.

A vote for Swallow is a help to Jenks.

The Democrats encourage the Swallow movement. They are hoping Swallow will get enough votes to permit of the election of the Bryanite candidate.

The very fact that Dr. Swallow has been endorsed by the Populists and all the rag tag fanatics and political eccentrics in the State is sufficient argument to cause an utter disregard of his claims for recognition.

The Democrats are asserting that Jenks will carry Bucks county. The argument advanced in support of their claims is that with the aid of members of Wanamaker's school of scandal Swallow will divide the Republican vote thus insuring the triumph of the free silver candidate. Vote for Stone!

Mr. Twining, who has filed nomination papers and who declares he will be an independent candidate for Register of Wills, is adopting a very unwise course. There is not the shadow of a chance of his being elected, and he will injure no one except himself. He may have a grievance, but there are others. He should take his medicine and abide his time.

In one of Mr. Wanamaker's speeches, which is reprinted in pamphlet form, he said, "not a cent of mine shall go to purchase a vote or the influence of a newspaper." Mr. Wanamaker has purchased newspaper influence with advertising contracts. He has also attempted to silence the guns of the free and fearless papers of the State by withdrawing his patronage.

Two years ago Congressman Wanger's majority in the District was within six votes of being an even 10,000. Bucks gave him 2786 majority and Montgomery 7268. There is not a particle of doubt but that he will be re-elected this year, but probably not by quite as large majority, as 1896 was the McKinley year. Congressman Wanger is deserting the vote of every Republican who goes to the polls, and if the proper interest is displayed his majority will equal that of two years ago.

Mr. John Wanamaker would like to hold the office of United States Senator, not for the privilege of dispensing Federal patronage or for the pecuniary advantages, but purely "for the social distinction" which the position offers. It is hard to reason why, as a society seeker, he wanted to be mayor of Philadelphia and later Governor of Pennsylvania. Since John has established such intimate relationship with Dave Martin we cannot see that it leaves anything further to be desired in the social line.

The esteemed editor of the Collegeville Independent appears to be somewhat perturbed over what he is pleased to term the "shall-hall hypocrisy" displayed by the Philadelphia Press in its editorial dealing with J. P. H. Jenks's letter. If our Collegeville contemporary has paid any attention to the course pursued by the Press during this campaign, he will have observed that that paper has been eminently "unfair and inconsistent," there being a distinctive advertising contract favor to the dish it daily serves its readers.

The fact that the evidence of alleged conspiracy offered against Senator Quay, which has been accessible to his persons since last March, was withheld until he had no opportunity to vindicate himself before election, is enough to establish the treachery of the plot. If the sensational article had been made one week sooner the Senator could have answered at the October term of court. The tactics adopted by the Wanamaker-Blankensburg villifiers are perfect exhibitions of their desperation.

If the Hon. John Wanamaker had made even a respectable showing at the late State convention he might, in a measure, be excused for making such a display of greedy disappointment. But it is decidedly amusing to watch his burlesque performances "in behalf of the people" who refused overwhelmingly to place the reins of government in his hands. After a recent issue put before the people he was turned down with a third. Out of over 800 delegates the prince of advertisers succeeded in having elected in his favor about a score.

The old expression that "politics make strange bedfellows" never struck with greater force than at the present time. It is a pleasure to watch the peaceful slumbers of such unscrupulous reformers as Dambly, Johnson, et al., cuddled up to Dave Martin, who is a political social celebrity. The wreaths placed upon the bumpy brow of the ward gaffer by the slender hands and tapering fingers of the editors of the eminently respectable Philadelphia Telegraph and Ledger, furnishes added lustre to the scene. We are afraid Dave's halo will not fit him.

A CAMPAIGN OF INFAMY.

The attacks made upon the Republican State ticket by the disappointed office-seekers of Wanamaker-Swallow variety will not result in the anticipated overthrow of the Republican party in Pennsylvania.

Although all the arts known to vituperation and political trickery have been employed in the assault, the Republican ticket stands forth unweakened by the vicious onslaughts, towering supreme in its majesty above the pigmy villifiers.

Mr. Wanamaker, in his speeches on the stump, has made statements which he must have known to be false. He has assumed a recklessness in manner and speech which can only be accounted for by reason of the fact that in his business career he has ever been successful in crushing opposition, and in the endeavor to enter politics upon the same plan he has met with continual rebuffs.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania have repeatedly declared that they did not wish to give him a public office. Mr. Wanamaker refuses to abide by the decisions of conventions, and in order to retaliate for such refusal and lack of appreciation, he is engaged in an effort to break up the party.

It has been stated upon the authority of a United States Senator, and never denied, that, as a result of his pique in being so mercilessly defeated in his gubernatorial aspirations, Mr. Wanamaker entered into an alliance with the Democrats to nominate Judge Gordon for Governor at the Altona convention. If the scheme were successful to the end the great store-keeper, as his share of the reward, was to receive Democratic votes for United States Senator. This plot miscarried entirely. Later sensational arrests at a cowardly hour and in a cowardly manner were made, with the hope of creating a Democratic victory next month.

Some political coyotes try to make the people believe that the Republican organization, which is staunchly working for the success of the ticket and the triumph of the party, is engaged in the treacherous effort to defeat Congressman Charles W. Stone for re-election. William A. and C. W. Stone have appeared on the same platform in this campaign and appealed to the people to support the entire Republican ticket. The action of a Philadelphia contemporary in endeavoring to have the people believe that the Republican organization is trying to defeat C. W. Stone with Free Silver Joe Silbey is the vilest ruse and only demonstrates the despicable methods to which the Press and Blankensburg have been driven in order to accomplish their ends.

Colonel Stone, who is the sole of honor and integrity, has not escaped the snarls of the political jackals who are office-mad and he has been subjected to the malignant attacks of these foes of the Republican party. They have a telepathic knowledge of what Colonel Stone will do when he is elected governor. They know he will open the doors of the treasury for the ingress of thieves; they have peculiar knowledge to the effect that all of the objectionable bills which were vetoed at the last session are going to be resurrected and will receive the endorsement of Governor Stone; they know he will industriously engage in padding the pay rolls and that he will hardly sleep of nights so busily will he be employed in concocting investigating schemes.

That is the kind of argument these turned-down harrangues are using in the effort to impress an intelligent people.

Colonel Stone's campaign has been clean and honorable, indicative of the character of the candidate. In a recent address he said: "I claim to be the nominee of the whole Republican party after a spirited and hotly contested campaign before the people of the State. I have so far conducted this campaign not only before but after the convention in a decent, respectable and gentlemanly manner, and I shall continue to do so."

No amount of charges or of false statements made by those who antagonize my election can bring from me any counter statement against any of the candidates opposing me which will reflect upon their honesty or their personality. I am quite content to let the people pass upon the matters at issue between us.

I do not believe in calumny or slander ever won a contest in Pennsylvania.

I do not believe that false issues and deceit can prejudice the intelligent voters of this State.

I do not believe that the people can be deceived or deluded from the true issue in this campaign.

WANAMAKER ON THE DEFENSIVE.

The tables have been turned and Mr. John Wanamaker has been placed on the defensive. There is alleged to be much evidence concerning the ex-Postmaster General's business rectitude, and as he has entered into a campaign of personalities, he will probably be compelled to clear his own skirts.

Senator Penrose in a recent address laid some serious charges at the door of Mr. Wanamaker, in connection with the Keystone Bank failure. The Junior Senator declared he had no fear or hesitancy in making the charges as he held the proofs. He said in part:

"But I do not hesitate to charge John Wanamaker with the knowledge of the over-issue of stock of the Keystone Bank, and with knowledge of demands made on City Treasurer John Hurdley for deposit of city funds in the bank to meet his obligations."

Senator Penrose repeated the charges he made upon a former occasion, that Mr. Wanamaker's reputed agent offered Senator Quay through the latter's son, Richard, $250,000 for his influence to elect Mr. Wanamaker United States Senator, and also that Mr. Wanamaker's representatives paid $50,000 to settle the Van Valkenburg case in Schuylkill and Northampton counties. In the latter connection Senator Penrose said:

"I want to add to that charge that an agent in Mr. Wanamaker's interest went to Philadelphia and made an attempt to fix the jury in the bribery case there. I fear every gentleman to the records of Schuylkill and Northampton counties to show the open debauchery and bribery of John Wanamaker."

In commenting on these allegations Mr. Wanamaker says it is difficult to understand the accusations he intends to make, but if Senator Penrose will make his charges in writing he will promptly issue a warrant of arrest, that as his speech was only an oral utterance, the ex-Postmaster General's attorneys have very graciously advised him that it would be very unsatisfactory to try and convict under the circumstances.

Mr. Wanamaker also makes the following threat:

"I have learned that the Quay managers have concocted a libelous article against me based upon the affairs of the Keystone Bank and in the line of Senator Penrose's speech of last night, and that it has been put in the form of plate matter for newspaper publication. I give public notice to all persons concerned that I will prosecute promptly and to the fullest extent of the law whoever shall be guilty of publishing or printing and circulation of such libelous matter."

It is not likely that his intended scare will have much effect. His vilifying speeches have been printed by newspapers in general, and if a defense is made in the shape of counter charges, which newspaper publishers believe to be entirely authentic, it will in all probability be printed, notwithstanding Mr. Wanamaker's threat.

Joseph Simon is the Senator elect from the State of Oregon. He belongs to the Simon pure branch of the Western Republican family, there being none of the Penrose strain interlarding his political make-up. In a recent interview Mr. Simon made a clean out statement of his principles. He said:

"I would have the retention of the entire Philippine group and I should not agree to the ratification of a treaty that remits any portion of them to Spain."

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

The Annual Convention of Chapters of This District Now in Session.

The Epworth League of the North Philadelphia District are today holding their annual district convention at the Bristol Methodist Episcopal Church. There is a large representation present from the different leagues. Each league is entitled to four delegates, one of whom must be the pastor. The different families of the church are entertaining the delegates at their homes for meals, and those from a distance will stay over night.

The chapel of the church, where the morning and afternoon sessions were held, is beautifully draped with flags and arranged with flowers and plants.

The morning and afternoon sessions were devoted to the business of the league.

MORNING SESSION
The address of welcome was made by Rev. Charles H. Norris. Rev. Cornelius Hudson had charge of the devotional exercises. The response to the address of welcome was made by Rev. J. R. T. Gray, D. D., and the balance of the morning was devoted to reading the reports of the different chapters and officers and the regular annual routine business.

AFTERNOON
The afternoon session, which convenes at 2 o'clock, will be a business session, as was that of this morning, with the reading of a number of papers upon League work by members of the different Leagues. The public is invited to attend the evening session, when the following programme will be given in the auditorium of the church:

7:00 Song service by Prof. W. J. Kirk, assisted by the following musical companies.
7:20 Devotional exercises.
7:30 Report of the Executive Committee by Mr. Robert E. Laramy, Bethlehem.
8:00 Song service by Epworth League Choir, of Bristol.
8:15 Address by Rev. John R. Westwood, of Philadelphia.

Professor William J. Kirkpatrick had charge of the special music all day, using the new book "Pentecostal Praises," by Kirkpatrick & Gilmore.

The officers of the North District are: President, Rev. Cornelius Hudson; Ist. Vice President, Rev. W. Q. Bonnett, (removed from district); 2d Vice President, Rev. George M. Broadhead, 3d Vice President, Rev. F. G. Coxson; Cor. Sec., Miss Lizzie L. Cornell; Rec. Sec., Miss S. T. Lacey; Treasurer, George F. Kline; Supt. Junior League Work, Miss Lizzie Flory; Executive Committee, Rev. Jos. R. Taylor; Gray, D. D., Rev. E. Dixon, Rev. S. W. Smith.

The leagues participating in the convention are represented as follows:
Bethlehem—Rev. George M. Broadhead, Leshrop Meeker, Robert B. Laramy.
Bristol—Rev. Charles H. Norris, John K. Street, Doran Green, Mrs. John K. Young, Walter Hall, alternate.
Ridgely, Phila.—Rev. J. P. Miller, Rev. Samuel Powers and three delegates.
Easton, South—Rev. L. B. Brown, one delegate.
East Bangor—Rev. L. A. Parsella.
Emile—Rev. Samuel Johnson and three delegates.
Elen, Phila.—Rev. Arthur Oakes.
Frankford, Phila., Central—Rev. A. G. Kynett, D. D., and three delegates.
Frankford, Phila., Frankford Ave.—Rev. F. G. Coxson and three delegates.
Langhorne—Rev. Frederick Getty and three delegates.
Lumberville—Rev. H. F. Iselt and two delegates.
Neshaminy—Rev. Samuel T. Johnson and three delegates.
New Hope—Rev. D. L. McCartney and three delegates.
Newtown—Rev. Edward Devine and three delegates.
Philadelphia, Fifth Street—Edward Cramer and one delegate.
Philadelphia, Providence—Rev. J. T. Wright and two delegates.
Philadelphia, St. George—Rev. J. H. Wood, D. D.
Somerton—Rev. J. M. Wheeler and three delegates.
South Bethlehem—Rev. S. W. Smith and three delegates.
Stroudsburg—Miss Lizzie Flory and Miss Sigafus.

Death of Dr. Richard Dingee.

Dr. Richard Dingee died at his residence in Newportville, Bucks county, on Thursday, October 6, after a few weeks' illness of rapid tuberculosis, aged about 70 years. His funeral took place on Monday, the interment being at Longwood. He was the son of Dr. Obadiah Dingee, of Chester county, Pa., who was the son of a family of French Huguenot refugees. Richard Dingee's brothers are Chas. Dingee, who is a member of the widely-known firm of Dingee-Conard Company, horticulturists and nurserymen, of West Grove, Pa., and William Dingee, a mechanical engineer with the J. I. Case Company at Racine, Wis. Richard Dingee was born in Byberry, Philadelphia county.

The following tribute from the Delaware Valley Advance gives a correct insight into the character of the departed physician:

It has not been very many years since the traveler who passed through this neighborhood might have met on the public road or some quiet lane, a certain old-fashioned pheton, drawn by a large yellow horse. The occupant of this vehicle was a scholarly looking man, who frequently allowed the horse to take its own way, while he read intently book or newspaper as he went slowly along.

The school children knew the horse, the pheton and the man, for they were sure of a "lift" if they could meet Dr. Richard Dingee on his rounds. The parents knew him, for no day was too hot or sultry, no night was so black or stormy as to cause him to turn a deaf ear to the cause of the sick and the suffering. The poor and the needy knew him best of all, for his skill and ripe experience was theirs "without money and without price." His wife often laughingly observed that "the doctor was most particular about making calls on those who could not pay him."

After years of hearty service in the cause of humanity, the evening of his life was freed from the necessity of "caring for the morrow" and he devoted his time to reading, study and the enjoyment of his own home.

There was in Dr. Dingee a capacity for quiet humor, which was often very diverting. It was worth a ride of five miles to see the twinkle in his eye as he told with delicious emphasis how "in one of his drives, he spied a little darkey on the road, and on saying to him, 'good morning, little nigger, how is you to-day?' the youngster rolled up the whites of his eyes and promptly replied, 'good morning oratory white folks, how is youself?'" But this was only one phase of the man. One very stormy night the Doctor became greatly exercised lest a certain poor colored family in his neighborhood might be suffering from the want of food, in the morning his good wife filled a bag with bacon and other provisions and without waiting for the roads to be broken this cheerful philosopher had the bag across his shoulders and started off through a quarter of mile of snow drifts to the humble cabin of his neighbor.

From his door no wanderer was ever turned unfed. Often have the doctor and his wife filled bounteous plates from their own table and with their own hands conveyed them to the "stranger within their gates," the warm benevolence a richer gift than the gift itself. The old pheton is almost worn out, Robert Bonner, the old yellow horse, has outlived his master, but the kindly simplicity, the professional skill, the many integrity of Dr. Richard Dingee will long linger in the minds and hearts of his friends and neighbors.

"None knew but to love him,
None named him but to praise."

Dunham—Silvers.
Mr. Edward W. Dunham, of Trenton, N. J., and Miss Julia Cox Silvers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stonaker Silvers, of Cranbury, N. J., were united in marriage yesterday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles F. Taylor, of Cranbury, assisted by Rev. Samuel M. Studdiford, D. D., of Trenton. Rev. James Henry Dunham, of Mount Holly, brother of the groom, was best man.

The home of the parents was a perfect tropical garden. The wedding was a yellow and white one, the colors being those of the Walnut Lane School, of Germantown, where the bride was graduated four years ago, and will long be remembered by those who were honored by being present.

There was a long list of guests from Trenton, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Newark, Cranbury and other places.

The bride is a charming and accomplished young lady, thoroughly well known in the social and church circles of the State, where her friends and acquaintances are legion.

Mr. Edward Dunham has a long list of friends and acquaintances resulting from his connection with the firm of S. P. Dunham & Co., the dry goods merchants; also his business connections in New York. Then, too, the church and social circles to which he is allied adds hundreds of friends and acquaintances to Mr. Dunham's long list already mentioned.

It is a trick that has been played time and time again, and instead of having any effect upon the voters, it generally acts, as Senator Magee remarks, as a boomerang.—Wilkesbarre Times.

Senator Quay is anxious to face his accusers in court and failure on their part to meet him there will be accepted as a confession of the weakness of their charges and the inincerency of their motives.—Towanda Journal.

Senator Quay will not allow the case to rest unpushed and the charges uninvestigated. And whatever comes of it will be pretty likely to redound to his own side and make his position with the people more impregnable than ever.—Reading Review.

One fact appears plain, and that is that no loss occurred to the bank on account of the loans made to the Quay. It is asserted, and the evidence bears out the statement, that all the loans made were duly secured by collateral.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

S. P. DUNHAM & CO.

Dry Goods Merchants of Trenton, Celebrate Their 100th Anniversary.

There is a double cause for celebrating this year—a double reason why you should go and see these folk during this celebration which will continue a part of next week. The head of the firm, Mr. S. P. Dunham, has been in the dry goods business for 40 years the 5th of the present month, during which time there has never been a hitch in the successful management in the various concerns of which he has been the head, namely, Trenton, N. J., Sellersville, N. J., Bodinimer, N. J., and Trenton, N. J.

Combining these two occasions the firm has launched out to do still greater things than they have ever attempted before. Departments have been enlarged, new lines of goods added, in fact a general reorganization of all over this great establishment, which is always interesting to say the least.

One entire store is devoted to carpets and various kinds of floor coverings; another of the store is devoted to interior household decorations in the shape of draperies, upholstery goods, curtains and the like, another big store room as large as most general stores is devoted to women's, misses' and children's coats, capes, suits, and furs. Silks and dress goods form a striking feature of this store's attractions this Autumn; these also occupy a whole store.

Bear you in mind when we quote these "whole stores" that S. P. Dunham & Co. have thirteen store rooms, each in operation to-day, not to mention the various rooms and departments set aside for the receipt and delivery of goods, counting rooms and so on. Perhaps some folk do not visit Trenton very often and would not expect to find such a store as this firm operates—not within the limits of the State, and when we tell you that the floor space, if placed on a level, would cover nearly a city block, we tell you only the facts of the case.

When we tell you that a small army of employees are kept busy; that four delivery wagons are kept busy for local delivery business and that cut-of-town free delivery has been extended to all nearby towns, you will have some little idea of Trenton's, if not of New Jersey's, foremost dry goods store.

This 100th anniversary is one of the mercantile events of 1906—one that you should not fail to visit if you are interested in dry goods, house furnishings and a grand spectacular dry goods show. The store is decorated in honor of the Peace Jubilee—red, white and blue predominating everywhere.

"American Hosiery."
We're proud of the fact that better hosiery can be made in this country than in Europe.

This has not been the case long, however; only for a year or so. New modern knitting machines, the most improved process of dyeing, and the employment of the most skillful dyers and knitters, has enabled the manufacturers of these stockings to excel the best French and German knitters, in the quality of their products.

This week we shall make a special showing of American made stockings at 25c. a pair.

They're all made of two-thread Mace yarn; all have high spliced heels, double soles and toes. The dye is of course fast black. These styles:
Black with white foot.
Black with white sole.
All black, in medium or heavy weight.

Ask to see them; they're entirely "American."

For the accommodation of the people of Bristol who desire to witness the firemen's parade at Burlington, N. J., on next Thursday, the ferry boat William E. Doron will make special trips morning and afternoon, running every half hour.

We call attention to the advertisement in this issue of H. M. Voorhees, of Trenton. That popular house announces a formal opening of fall and winter garments. Commencing to-day and continuing the rest of the week are "Coat and Suit Reception Days."

Miss Clara E. Sonnet, daughter of Daniel W. Sonnet, of Woonsocket, R. I., and well-known former Bristolian, is to be married on Wednesday, the 19th inst., to Mr. Frederick M. Comes, of Millville, Mass. The ceremony will be at noon at the Woonsocket Universalist Church.

Defiance Lodge, K. of P., of Newtown, visited Hermitage Lodge, of Bristol, on last Friday evening for the purpose of conferring the degrees upon a candidate. The work was performed in a very able manner. The degree team was well entitled to the oyster supper which was provided after the work was over.

Some of the colored citizens of the Fourth Ward formed a political organization last week and elected the following officers: William Washington, president; L. Smith, vice president; R. A. Johnson, Secretary; William Hamilton, Assistant Secretary; George Young, Treasurer. The club meets weekly at 521 Race street, and now has 37 members.

Miss Rena M. Neisser and Mr. Elmer B. Lucas, of West Philadelphia, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Neisser, by Rev. J. C. Bickerton. Those who attended the ceremony from Bristol were Mrs. George A. Neisser, Mr. and Mrs. John Neisser, Mr. and Mrs. Doron Green, Mrs. George Loderbauer, Miss Lizzie Neisser and Dr. Wilbur Peirce.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Minster and son, of Bristol, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Peirce, of Quakertown, have returned from a two weeks' trip by wagon through Northampton, Monroe and Pike counties. Mr. Minister reports that the trip was a delightful one, everything conspiring to make things pleasant for them. The scenery was fine, the weather was good, and the tonic qualities of the brazen air imparted a healthy appetite to the tourists there, was appreciated by the consumption of venison, bear meat, and trout in addition to other articles of food.

There are several contestants enrolled for the prize bicycle to be given by the Wheelmen's Road Association to the person bringing in the most members to the association. Lists have been printed containing the names of all the 1898 members to aid the contestants in making their canvass. The renewal of membership solicited by a contestant counts just the same as getting a new member. The association has done such good work in the past two years that no bicyclist should hesitate to give his name to an authorized solicitor for the association, and thus contribute to the fund for the construction of reliable paths in this vicinity.

Personal Mention.

Miss Sherman, of Philadelphia, is visiting Miss Eleanor Carter.

Miss Anna Morrow is home this week from New York City.

Walter Jones, formerly employed at the freight house in Bristol, is now at the seed house in Philadelphia of David Landreth & Sons.

Mrs. Jennie Chapin and little daughter, of Salem, N. J., and Mrs. E. W. Heppard, of Westville, N. J., are visiting W. Harry Smith and family.

Oscar Booz has returned home from the West Point Military Academy, to enter which he passed the competitive examination last spring. Mr. Booz is under treatment for his eyes and in the future will be compelled to wear glasses, which disbars him from the Academy.

Heid In Bail for Trial.

On last Friday afternoon there appeared before Judge Booz Howard Douglas, Joseph Coar and Frank Shields, of Hulmeville, charged by hotelkeeper H. F. Potter of rioting, fighting and disturbing the peace of the quiet town generally. On a separate affidavit Frank Shields was charged with obtaining liquor by misrepresentation. Shields, who is only 19 years old, stated that he was of age, and another affidavit by Landlord Potter states that Howard Douglas corroborated Shields' statement. After the hearing Judge Booz bound them over to appear at the next term of court in the sum of $300 each, John Johnson and Hugh B. Webster going security. During the trial George McKenna, a witness, and a brother of Frank McKenna, also charged with riotous conduct, who did not appear at the trial, told Potter they would get square with him. After the return of the party to Hulmeville, George McKenna kicked Landlord Potter and injured him very seriously internally. Since then McKenna has disappeared. Mr. Potter has always had the reputation of conducting a very regulated establishment, and has been particularly careful about selling liquor to minors, and will not have loafers about the place.

Addison Reception.

There was a good attendance last Monday evening at the Fall Reception of the Addison Society in the parlors of the Presbyterian Church. A very pleasant meeting was had at this, the first meeting of the society since adjournment for the summer. There were present a number of young men from the various congregations of the town who signified their intention of becoming members. The Entertainment Committee had secured an orchestra and a special piano for the occasion. The parlor was decorated with a number of flags and plants. Rev. Dr. Addison made a short address, in which he explained the purposes and intentions of the society and the advantages derived therefrom. Besides the orchestra music by Messrs. David Wright, H. H. Moon, Thomas Groves, Walter Groves and John Manning, a piano solo was rendered by W. G. Buckman and a cornet solo by Walter Groves. Later in the evening refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

P. R. R. Inspection.

The regular annual inspection trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad went through Bristol at 2.30 last Tuesday. There were four trains with observation cars with seats ranged in tiers in front of the engine and on the rear of the train. The remainder of the cars are diners and those for the comfort of the officers and stockholders of the road who are of the inspection party. The trains do not stop, but run along the road slowly while the experts aboard size up the general appearance of the road and test the smoothness of the tracks. The supervisor having the best division and the section boss with the best stretch of track are awarded large prizes. This system of giving prizes accounts in a general way for the excellent condition in which the roadbed and grounds are maintained. Groom, the boss at Bristol, has received several prizes for the excellent condition of his section.

Ladies wanted; any work, hours 8 to 5, salary, Call Thursday evening from 8 to 9 p. m., at Samuel Scott's, 318 Mill street.

Council Proceedings.

The regular monthly meeting of the borough Council was held in the Council chamber on last Monday evening. There were present W. Frank Scott, President, and Messrs. Allen, Byers, Dugan, Plumm, Milnor, McCann, Pearson, Poole, Samuel Scott, Thomas Scott and Wright.

A communication from the Burgess, B. S. Johnson, relative to the Peace Jubilee at Philadelphia, was read and ordered filed.

The Finance Committee to whom was referred the petition of the publishers of the American for a share of the borough printing reported that by resolution of Council the printing was divided between the Gazette and Observer and that it could be arranged at any time. On motion the report was received and filed.

The Street Committee reported concerning the street lights referred to it; that the Dorchester street lamp had been repaired, and recommended the adoption of the Standard Telephone ordinance.

The Police Committee reported four arrests during the month of September.

The ordinance granting the Standard Telephone Co. the right to erect poles and string wires within the borough limits was adopted, with some amendments, section by section and afterwards as a whole.

Charles Saxton, collector of delinquent borough taxes, made his monthly report and asked for a number of remits and thirty odd warrants.

On motion the Clerk was directed to ask D. F. Gilkeson Esq. borough attorney to make his report on the unpaid taxes of 1896.

The street light at Plum and Pine streets was reported as having been removed and the matter was placed in charge of the Street Committee.

On motion the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. was requested to place night watchmen at Washington, Lafayette and Dorchester street crossings and the Clerk was directed to communicate the request to the Company.

After the passage of bills Council adjourned.

All Night Telegraph Service.

The Western Union Telegraph Company on November 1st will move its office now on Mill street into the ticket office at the Pennsylvania railroad station. The railroad company's instruments now in the freight office will be moved over to the ticket office, and both sets of instruments will be in charge of a day and a night operator who will also be assistant ticket agents. The ticket office and the telegraph lines will be open day and night and Sundays for business. Walter F. Hall, the operator at the freight depot, will be retained there as clerk, and Miss Dennis, the Western Union operator, will likely be transferred to Philadelphia.

The Western Union office since its location on Mill street has been closed all day Sunday, with the exception of an hour in the morning and afternoon. On week days it was open from eight in the morning until eight in the evening. Important messages have been sent to Bristol during the hours that the office has been closed, causing much dissatisfaction, and this change of the Western Union will be appreciated and no doubt will result in an increased business for the company at this point.

Sons of Temperance Installation.

Bristol Division, No. 107, Sons of Temperance, celebrated their sixteenth anniversary on Friday evening, by an entertainment and banquet. The Deputy Grand Worldly Patriarch, A. L. Lambert, of Philadelphia, assisted by P. W. P., Harry Sheppard, installed the following Officers: P. W. P., Mary Allen; W. P., Harry Sheppard; W. P., A. R. S., A. Willis Sheppard; F. S., Thomas Harper; Treasurer, William A. Mohr; Chaplain, Annie H. Stradling; Con., Annie Powell; Asst. Con., Fred Fisher; I. S., Lizzie Sheppard; O. S., David J. Jones; Organist, James Guy.

The Division is in a very prosperous condition having received five propositions last Friday night.

There were only two passengers on Conductor Saxton's car on one of the afternoon trips from Langhorne last Friday, a woman and a man. The man was talking to the motorman and the lady was so anxiously waiting the arrival of the car in Bristol that the lonely conductor was not missed from the car until he had nearly reached Bristol, and the lady would not let the motorman go back and look for him as she would miss her train. On the return trip Conductor Saxton was picked up opposite George Smith's farm where he had walked from the race track. In going around the curve at that point Saxton was thrown from the platform, and his sudden and unprompted departure was not noticed.

Wasn't in It.

Took Everything in Sight.

Jack Robinson, a stock young man, who for the past few weeks has been doing the town with a camera, taking pictures of dwellings, people, or in fact anything where there was any chance in getting his money back for exposed plates, left the town last week before his landlady could get a snapshot at him for a few weeks' delinquent board bill. While here Robinson's specialty was taking houses, but in fact he took all he could get, as there disappeared with him the camera and $50 in cash, collected by him, which belonged to Mr. Peirce, a fine street photographer, Philadelphia, who owned the apparatus, and by whom Robinson was employed.

Next Thursday's Parade.

The Bristol fire companies will likely give a short parade next Thursday on their way to the ferryboat to participate in the Firemen's Carnival in Burlington, which is to be the largest demonstration of the kind ever held in this vicinity. The Morrisville firemen will go through Bristol, and it is expected that their apparatus on this side of the river and across on the ferry.

List of letters remaining in Bristol Post office, October 18, 1898.—Mrs. Annie Burden, Herbert Campbell, Harry Penimore, Nicholas Hey, Mrs. Michael Hawkins, Hill, C. A. Johnson, Mrs. John Jensen, Wharton Roberts, T. Gustavus Reim, Mrs. Martha Rolland, L. Woods, George Wright, Mary Weidlen, Mrs. Charlotte Wood, Dorchester street.

It is probable that a Republican meeting will be held in the risk on Saturday evening of next week. The speakers will be principally local to Bucks county, although it is expected that others will be present. The details have not yet been definitely arranged.

The marriage of Miss Kate Ennis, of Bristol, to William Daffer, of Newtown, Pa., was solemnized in St. Marks church yesterday morning. Mrs. Caroline Ennis, the grandmother of the bride, aged 102 years, was one of those who witnessed the ceremony.

Church Suppers Galore.

During the past week there has been no valid reason why any person with the price of a supper ticket in his pocket should not have enjoyed the numerous suppers prepared by daily hands and spread upon tables decorated with flowers and banquet lamps. The young ladies of the different church congregations of the town, have proved that beauty is not their only attraction, but that they were possessed of marked ability in providing the necessities of life on these occasions, in a thorough and graceful manner.

The Pastor's Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church is a new organization formed for the special purpose of aiding in procuring funds for the erection of a new church edifice. Although but a few weeks old the Society has enlisted in its ranks of willing workers over one hundred energetic women who are doing their full measure of duty in furtherance of the object for which they associated themselves together. This Society will give its first public entertainment on Saturday evening at Pythian Hall. It will be an entertainment especially "for the inner man" and will consist of choice viands tastefully prepared, which will strongly appeal to the gastronomic pleasures of those who will be present. The supper hours are from 6.30 to 8.30 o'clock, and, owing to the liberality of the friends of the new church movement, the committee in charge has been able to place the price of tickets at the small sum of twenty-five cents each.

The annual chicken supper given in Pythian hall last evening by the Improvement Fund Mite Society of the First Baptist Church was a success beyond expectation. The ladies prepared what they supposed was an ample amount of chickens and trimmings for all possible emergencies, fully covering the number of tickets sold, but owing to the unusual door payments and the abnormal state of the fashions' appetites, the stock of provisions ran out before the evening was over and those who came late had to be content with ice cream and cake.

The supper bell continues to ring. The ladies of the Second Baptist Church (colored), are with the rest of the people in the supper line. They have arranged to give a "big chicken supper" in the church on Friday evening, the 21st inst. The hours are from 6 to 10 o'clock, and the price as usual is 25 cents.

At the annual supper given by the Women's Guild at St. Paul's Mission on last Saturday evening over $50 were cleared for the benefit of the mission. The supper was a particularly good one, and the ladies can count on a good representation next year, as they know how to reach a man's heart.

The ladies of St. James' P. E. Church gave an oyster supper on last Tuesday evening in the Parish Building, which was greatly enjoyed by those who were present. The net proceeds amounted to about $40. The tables were handsomely decorated with flowers.

To-night the Board of Stewards of the Bethel A. M. E. Church will give an oyster supper for the benefit of the church.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran Church will hold a coffee party at the residence of Mrs. Augustus Rathko to-night.

Upon affidavit of his wife, Mrs. Ann Clark, ex-Councilman Robert Clark was arrested and tried before Judge E. N. Booz yesterday afternoon for assault and battery. The Judge bound Clark over to appear at court in the sum of $200 bail and $100 to keep the peace, but was released upon his own recognizance. Heretofore Mr. Clark has been one of Bristol's exemplary citizens and is owner of considerable property in the borough. It has only been in the last two or three months, as his wife testified, that there has been anything to complain of in her husband's manner. Late he has been drinking a great deal. It is expected that the case will be amicably settled out of court.

On Sabbath evening, at 7.30 o'clock, the pastor of the Presbyterian church will deliver the fourth in his series of discourses on "The Last Things." His subject will be "Hell and Future Punishment: What do we know about them? Is the expression 'Fire' literal or figurative?"

The telephone ordinance as it passed Council on last Monday night is not acceptable to the Standard Company, and it is said it will probably decline to come into the borough unless some of the amendments tacked to the original draft of the ordinance are stricken out.

Help is wanted when the nerves become weak and appetite fails. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives help by making the blood rich and pure.
